Warlord Daily Bugle BUY WAR BONDS SINK SHIPS Keep Our Boys Beware of Fighting! Unguarded Talk

Distributed by Messrs. Stallard & Sawyer of Lenton Boulevard, Nottingham, No. 16764

Tuesday, August 6th 1944

Published Weekly, 2 3/4d

Brits Bogged Down!

British forces are still held down in the southern regions of Caen. bogged down in the Bocage in a fierce stalemate with SS Panzer forces.

The German tank division is fighting with a fanatical frenzy, repelling any attempts to take further ground.

Although German forces had seemed to be retreating beyond the Seine, it seems reconnaissance had failed to uncover the full extent of Hitler's forces still embedded in the region.

The 1st Canadian Army is also heavily involved in this conflict, having suffered extraordinary levels of casualties.

The British effort, though instrumental to the success of the American effort, nevertheless exists in the shadow of our ally's own advance, whose progress has been substantial. Operation Cobra has made a remarkable impact on the enemy's territorial holdings.

It is hoped that with the threat of a flanking manoeuvre from the Americans, German forces will be forced to pull back, and finally allow for a successful Commonwealth push forwards.

Another Sub Sank!

Another German U-Boat has been sank, west of St. Nazaire in the Bay of Biscay.

H.M.S Loch Killin sighted the German sub's periscope, as it was fired upon by a torpedo.

Fortunately the speedy reaction of the crew in deploying depth charges resulted in catastrophic damage to the U-Boat, whilst simultaneously neutralising the threat of the launched torpedo.

The resultant damage forced the surfacing of the sub, and in a bizarre turn, the two vessels ended up bound together for several minutes.

A number of bewildered German sailors found themselves aboard the deck of the Loch Killin, though a number went down with the sinking submarine.

These prisoners are now on their way back to England whilst H.M.S Lock Killin continues its patrol.

Glider Assault at Vercors!

Fierce fighting at the Vercors Massif has flushed out encamped Maquis fighters. An unprecedented surge of German troops descended in Gliders, whilst below, columns of troops ascended the main access road.

The beleaguered French resistance fighters fought passionately, though ultimately against the overwhelming odds, they could not persevere. It is unknown at this time how many Frenchman survived the assault.

Encamped on a series of forested plateaus, the Resistance had thought the Massif (nicknamed 'The Fortress') an impregnable stronghold.

Now on display at leading dealers throughout New York. IMMEDIATE DELIVERY, ANDREA RADIO CORP., 48-35 48th Ave., Woodside, L. I., N. Y. Tel. STillwell 4-4754

> Mrs E Carlysle's Recipe for Making Do:

Pre-heat the oven to 200 C (400 F) or Gas Mark 6.

Method

Put the cooking fat into a Yorkshire pudding tin and place in oven for 5 minutes, add the sausages and toss in fat and cook for a further 5 minutes or so.

Raise the temp to

Mark 7

220 C (425 F) or Gas

Blend the ingredients for the batter together (drv ingredients first and then slowly mix in the water/ milk)

Pour the batter over the piping hot sausages and bake for 30 minutes until well risen and golden brown

Remove and serve

Race to repair dam - Page 3

Farm thefts threaten harvest - Page 4

> Shipping compamy sinking - Page 7

Beloved Turner under threat - Page 9

Science is a wonderful thing if one does not have to earn one's living at it.

5 oz plain flour pinch salt 1 tablespoon dried egg powder 2 tablespoons

water 1/2 pint of milk

1 oz of margarine/butter or

1 lb sausages

dripping

Ingredients

or milk and water