Canadian troops have stormed across the Orne and cracked open the German defences around the embattled city.

Heroic soldiers from the Black Watch threw caution to the wind and plunged deep into Caen's industrial quarter. They held their positions for several hours against repeated German counter-attacks, oftentimes without any armoured or While most of Caen is now air support!

Exploiting this toe-hold, other Canadian and British units rallied and drove the enemy back on all fronts.

The battle for Caen has now moved southward - towards the heights at Borquebus and Verrierers. Embittered Germans garrison these ridges, blasting anything that gets close with long-range artillery and anti-tank fire.

in Allied hands, until these strongpoints can be neutralised, a breakout cannot be achieved!

A new invention has transformed Allied fortunes in the Bocage. Welded up from the ruins of Axis beach defences, the new hedgerow cutters (or prongs in British parlance) are bolted to the front of Sherman tanks to improve Allied mobility among the hedgerows.

US General Omar Bradley gave his approval to the invention earlier this week.

Tanks equipped with hedgerow cutters use the iron tusks to uproot the hedges and bulldoze the earth embankment, carving a new entry point into the field for the accompanying infantry.

This invention has come just in time the American build-up for the big push is beginning and the brave doughboys need all the help they can get in Normandy's claustrophobic hedgerows.

Take thy beak from out my heart, and take thy form from off my door!" Quoth the Raven "Nevermore."

Crowds cheered from the stands, egging on our nation's new box-

Battered and bloody, the new heavyweight champion brandished his belt, receiving acolades from Princess Margaret who was in attendance.

The new heavyweight champion is one Captain Fulton Mackay of the Argyle & Sutherland Highlanders - decorated for his service in Malaya, and one of the army's top boxers.

After earning his VC and DSO against the Japanese, Mackay was posted to the War Office, where he became involved in national boxing competitions.

We hope to see more of Mackay in the coming months!
