DISASTER STRIKES!

Allied Forces around Caen routed!

The big push for Caen broke down in the face of a massive Axis counter-attack, spearheaded by heavy tanks and endless waves of SS fanatics.

Following the ignominious rout at Villers-Bocage, attempts to shore up the frontline collapsed after another knockout punch from Wittman's Tigers.

The worst storm in 40 years wrecked one of the priceless Mulberry harbours and the build-up of troops slowed to a crawl.

Our brave boys are caught between a rock and a hard place - trapped between the advancing Hun and the tumultuous sea!

Despite numerous setbacks, our Canadian allies launched their assault against the airfield at Carpiquet, taking the German defences by storm.

Both sides are now racing to consolidate their fragile front lines, and the sequence of attack and counter-attack will begin once again.

Hopefully the allies can break the dead-lock and begin the big push for Paris.

Keep at it, boys!

GERMAN SNIPERS STALK HEDGEROWS

With the arrival of SS fanatics from the Russian front, a new peril prowls the Norman countryside in search of prey. Armed with a big bore rifle and telescopic sights, the sniper is a habitual killer, capable of taking his quarry at 1000 yards.

These German marksmen learned their trade in the killing grounds of Stalingrad and Leningrad, sometimes using explosive rounds to devastating effect.

American correspondent Ernie Pyle had this to say; "There are snipers everywhere. There are snipers in trees, in buildings, in piles of wreckage, in the grass. But mainly they are in the high, bushy hedgerows that form the fences of all the Norman fields and line every roadside and lane."

Keep your heads down boys!

FLYING BOMBS KILL THOUSANDS

This troubling new weapon has killed thousands across London and the South East.

War Office figures show that gunners are expending 2,500 shells for each flying bomb shot down.

Directed by a primitive gyroscope and packed with 2000lb of high explosive, these devastating weapons are being launched from bases deep in occupied France.

New electronic gun layers are arriving from America, but will it be in time to stop the slaughter?

These buzzbombs are proving difficult for our anti-aircraft gunners to shoot down.

For now, our plucky pilots are our first line of defence against this new threat!
